User Testing Feedback

In order to validate the user experience and functionality of my website I requested feedback from friends and colleagues. I specifically asked each user to evaluate the website based on the following criteria:

1. Aesthetics
    a. How would you rate the look of the website?
2. Functionality
    a. Does the navbar work and navigate you to the correct page?
    b. Do the hyperlinks function, and open up the appropriate page in a new browser tab?
    c. Do all of the interactive elements function?
        i. Accordion feature
        ii. Buttons
    d. Do the Social media and email links function correctly?
    e. How well does the contact form work? Does it
        i. Require you to complete each field before submission?
        ii. Confirm the information submitted?
3. Responsiveness
    a. Does the website function on PC's?
        i. Windows
        ii. Mac
    b. Does it look and function just as well on a tablet?
        i. Android
        ii. iOS
    c. How well does it look and work on a mobile device?
        i. Android
        ii. iOS

Hi Gareth,
      I checked out your Github site as requested and was very impressed. the functionality of the was great, the link all worked and it looked cool.
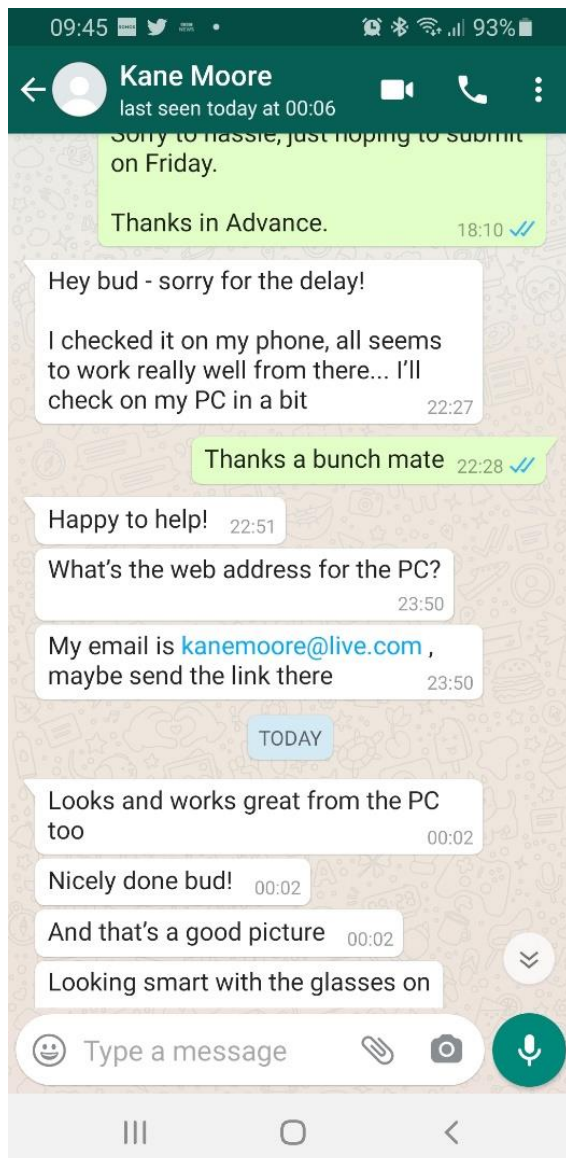

Like the newly posted picture.

If I was to make one suggestion it is that you use the abbreviation I'm and I think you should use "I am" also you use "i'm or I am " to often.

Otherwise really cool, great job.

Regards,
    Eamonn

manic, however had a quick look last night and all links work, flow and ease of website good and user friendly, haven't really looked at content but have asked Stu to cast his eyes over as owns a recruitment company within the tech industry which is probably your market? maybe a more professional photo similar to those you see in a LinkedIn profile? There are a couple of good ones of my contacts but haven't invested time in this, will try and have a further look later , the key questions asked do work   14:36

Thanks bud, agreed on the photo   14:39 ✓✓

Jen has tried all functionality on pc and Mac and work, I tried on iPhone and also work, in form you can compete all fields   14:39
